Candidacy Pathway: Learning Outcomes for Ministry Leadership

What Are Learning Outcomes?
Learning outcomes are statements that describe the knowledge or skills that learners should acquire by the end of a particular learning experience.

Learning outcomes focus on the context and applications of knowledge and skills, and help to guide the evaluation of the person’s learning, knowledge and skills. They are intended to ensure that the assessment and evaluation of a person’s learning is measurable.

Purpose of the Learning Outcomes in the Context of Formation for Ministry
The Learning Outcomes for Ministry Leadership identify the competencies that the United Church requires in its ministry leaders.

During the Candidacy Pathway process, the Candidacy Board is responsible for measuring an applicant’s or candidate’s proficiency in these Learning Outcomes. The Candidacy Board uses the Learning Outcomes as a measure to monitor the growth and development of the applicant/candidate throughout the pathway. The Candidacy Board takes into consideration in their assessment the particularities of each of the two expressions of Ordered Ministry in the United Church as well as Designated Lay Ministry.

Those preparing for ministry leadership are responsible for demonstrating growth in relation to suitability and readiness for ministry leadership to the Candidacy Board throughout their pathway. Applicants and candidates are required to complete self-assessments during their process in order to identify the focus for their learning and growth and to develop learning goals based on these Learning Outcomes.

How the Learning Outcomes Are Organized
The learning outcomes are organized into a table. Here is an explanation of the organization of the table:

Categories
The Learning Outcomes are organized into four categories:

1. Spiritual, Vocational, and Personal Formation
2. Teach and Facilitate Learning in and of the Christian Faith
3. Cultural and Contextual Sensitivities and Analyses
4. Leadership within the Faith Community and Wider Community
The Spiritual, Vocational, and Personal Formation category is intended to be the foundation around which the other outcomes are woven. The outcomes in this category are essential for vocational formation.

General Learning Outcome
The General Learning Outcome offers a summary statement of what the candidate is expected to know, and be able to demonstrate minimal proficiency in, within a particular category.

Learning Outcome
The left-hand column entitled Learning Outcome includes the list of competencies the church expects of its ministry personnel. These are used to guide the development of learning goals.

Examples for Applying the Learning Outcome
The right hand column entitled Examples for Applying the Learning Outcome, offers suggestions for the kinds of activities someone would undertake in order to live out the learning outcome. These are descriptions and not prescriptions of the learning outcome.

In organizing both the Learning Outcome and Examples for Applying the Learning Outcome, the table begins with individual learning and moves towards working with others. This does not imply an ordering of how people learn but is simply a way of organizing the learning outcomes and examples. One needs to look at all the outcomes together and not assume that each example can represent the whole learning.
1. Spiritual, Vocational, and Personal Formation

General Learning Outcome: At the appropriate stages of assessment, the candidate of The United Church of Canada will be able to demonstrate their personal faith and vocational identity and display emotional maturity and moral integrity in themselves and in relation to others. It is understood that personal faith is inherently relational as one interacts with the Divine and others (both human and the cosmos).
